Aim and approach - rent cap

Q1. Which of the following best expresses your view of capping private sector rent increases annually across Scotland at one percentage point above inflation (measured according to the Consumer Price Index (CPI))?

Partially opposed

Please explain the reasons for your response.

Every year you and your colleagues in the Scottish Parliament see fit to add more and more onerous conditions to being a Landlord without cognisance to the hardship you cause to the rental market. Yes you get your 30 seconds of glory and the sought sound-bites with the constant denigration of folk, without, whose hard work the social; sector housing would be in crisis overnight. I agree there are some rogue Landlords- TACKLE them and not the whole market.

Rent level appeals

Q2. Which of the following best expresses your view of providing that, when tenants appeal their rent, rent officers and the First-tier Tribunal would be able to either lower or maintain the rent but not increase the rent?

Partially supportive

Please explain the reasons for your response.

In exceptional cases there should be a facility of recourse to question rental however, please note, that no-one forces individuals to agree a Lease. Why do you all advocate an open market in every other field yet, when it comes to the rental market you want to constrain these same conditions.

Landlord registration scheme

Q3. Which of the following best expresses your view of expanding the landlord registration scheme so that landlords must input the rent that they charge when they register, and update the system when the rent changes?

Fully opposed

Please explain the reasons for your response.

What happened to privacy and data protection and GDPR??? Who will have access to these figures and to what use? Further, there is no requirement for this element in your Bill as there is recourse to the First Tier Tribunal if there is dispute about rental amount.

Other options - Rent Pressure Zones

Q4. Which of the following best expresses your view of tackling the problem of rents rising significantly faster than inflation by making it easier for a local authority to apply to create a Rent Pressure Zone (RPZ)?

Partially supportive

Please explain the reasons for this response.

As far as I am aware there are still NO RPZs in Scotland... so it begs the question- why are you even asking this question!!

Financial implications

Q5. Taking account of both costs and potential savings, what financial impact would you expect the proposed Bill to have on:

	Significant increase in cost	Some increase in cost	Broadly cost-neutral	Some reduction in cost	Significant reduction in cost	Unsure
Government and the public sector			X
Businesses (including landlords)		X
Individuals (including tenants)		X

Please explain the reasons for your response.

Landlords will just set their initial rental rates higher to compensate for all the ridiculous and onerous conditions now placed upon them, of which this will just be another one. As mentioned previously all the jumping and dancing by politicians re RPZs came to nothing in practical terms. As no doubt will this- only creating another layer of Red Tape for Landlords to overcome.

Q6. Are there ways in which the Bill could achieve its aim more cost-effectively (e.g. by reducing costs or increasing savings)?

Yes- put it in the bin along with all the other silly ideas!! Try governing the Country instead of always looking for a soundbite or photo opportunity.

Equalities

Q7. What overall impact is the proposed Bill likely to have on equality, taking account of the following protected characteristics (under the Equality Act 2010): age, disability, gender re-assignment, maternity and pregnancy, marriage and civil partnership, race, religion or belief, sex, sexual orientation?

Negative

Please explain the reasons for your response.

Landlords will become very fussy with their rental criteria and those that will suffer the most are those this is allegedly supposed to help. want to do something positive- build social housing or buy out the Landlord market en masse.

Q8. In what ways could any negative impact of the Bill on equality be minimised or avoided?

I can't- market conditions will tighten. Landlords are already leaving the business in droves- who will pick up the slack- certainly not the Scottish Government.

Sustainability

Q9. Do you consider that the proposed Bill can be delivered sustainably, i.e. without having likely future disproportionate economic, social and/or environmental impacts?

No

Please explain the reasons for your response.

Because if it is passed, as with other recent tenancy legislation, Landlords and in turn tenants will suffer and, nothing will be achieved.

General

Q10. Do you have any other comments or suggestions on the proposal?

Buy a bin.....
